Learn Scientific Legal Mapping!

JUNE 7-8, 2017

Join us for the

POLICY SURVEILLANCE SUMMER INSTITUTE

Learn policy surveillance and scientific legal mapping techniques to build empirical legal data that can be used in research and practice during a two-day intensive training at Temple University.

Participants will:

» Learn the policy surveillance process from start to finish.
» Receive hands-on training in introductory and advanced methods from expert legal researchers during and after the Institute.
» Network with other attendees from diverse professional backgrounds from across the country.

The training is open to practitioners, policymakers, researchers and students.
