

CLINICAL SUPERVISION CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Hosted by
Temple University Harrisburg

Temple University Harrisburg, in partnership with PSCSW is offering a 20-hour certificate program in clinical supervision. The program will prepare participants to provide clinical supervision to graduate level clinicians seeking licensure or professional development. Through the use of lecture, case method discussion, interactive journaling and reading, participants will examine developmental and relational models of supervision, with an emphasis on the parallel process of supervision. The course concludes with two supervision groups in which supervisory vignettes brought in by participants will be utilized to illustrate the theoretical constructs.

Learning Objectives:

Participants successfully completing this program will be able to:

- Enumerate and compare several models of clinical supervision
- Distinguish and demonstrate specific supervisory skills and techniques
- Integrate concepts of parallel process into supervision
- Formulate a personal supervision philosophy
- Recognize and discuss how to approach ethical issues that commonly emerge in supervision

Instructors:

- Claudia Dewane, D.Ed., LCSW
- Jessie Timmons, LCSW

Please Note: Enrollment is limited to 20 students. Participants will be accepted in the order that completed applications are received. Once accepted, you may secure your space in the class with a non-refundable $50 deposit.
